2. CITATIONS AND EXPLANATIONS

Claims 1-92 lack an inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over Pintsov et al. U.S. Patent 6,385,504 in view of Gilham U.S. Patent 5,774,554

Pintsov teaches a method for providing a verifiable delivery payment coding comprising: transmitting verification data configured to be included in a delivery payment coding; receiving an item in an item delivery system, the item comprising the delivery payment coding including the verification data; and verifying the authenticity of the delivery payment coding using verification data (column 3, lines 10-67). The verification data is machine-readable and is optically able to be scanned from the address label (Figure 6). Pintsov fails to teach that the delivery verification is associated with a monetary value. Gilham teaches associating a monetary value with the delivery payment coding (column 3, line 46 thru column 4, line 55). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the Applicant's invention to modify the teachings of Pintsov to include associating monetary value with payment coding as taught by Gilham because it provides an efficient criteria for verifying delivery payment. There is sufficient motivation to combine the teachings of Pintsov and Gilham because both teach a method for providing a verifiable delivery payment coding with verification data to be included in a delivery payment coding.
